1. Qualitative information on operating results for quarter under review

(1) Operating Results

Looking at the Japanese economy in the third quarter of the consolidated fiscal year under review, while corporate earnings were at high levels, business sentiment continued to grow increasingly cautious. Improvement in employment conditions continued and yet the strong feeling of labor shortage persisted. Personal consumption has been recovering, but given the increase in consumption tax, the subsequent trend in consumer sentiment requires attention.

Under these circumstances, the contract clinical testing business continues to encounter a harsh business environment due to persisting competition among companies, despite market growth.

In these conditions, net sales for the third quarter of the fiscal year under review were ¥92,857 million, an increase of 4.2% year on year, and operating income was ¥8,941 million, an increase of 1.9% year on year. Ordinary income increased at 1.6% year on year to ¥9,234 million, and profit attributable to owners of parent increased 3.1% to ¥5,812 million.

Conditions by business segment are described below.

In the clinical testing business, the BML Group strengthened efforts for new customer acquisition. In addition, we sought to enhance performance, carrying out marketing to stimulate increased sales for new testing items, unique testing items, priority testing items, and other strategies. Moreover, the Company acquired shares of The Tohkai Cytopathology Institute as part of the BML Group strategy, and made it a consolidated subsidiary of the Company from the current fiscal year. As a result, net sales in the clinical testing business increased 4.5% year on year.

In the food hygiene business, which belongs to the other testing business, the new customer acquisition of food consulting and intestinal bacteria testing was solid and JFS standard certification operations increased with mandatory implementation of HACCP at BML Food Science Solutions, Inc. This resulted in good performance overall. As a result, sales in the other testing business increased 5.6% year on year.

As a consequence of the above, net sales in the testing business overall were ¥88,488 million, an increase of 4.5% year on year.

In the medical informatics business, competition among companies is becoming harsh in tandem with the widespread use of electronic cloud-based patient chart systems. As a result, net sales in the medical informatics business decreased by 3.8% year on year. Meanwhile, the launch of a complete in-house operation of a support center in October has helped improve the support structure and profitability. Also, with sights set on launching commercial sales, the Company is preparing for an electronic cloud-based patient chart system.

In other businesses, the Okayama Medical Laboratory Company's dispensing pharmacy business showed solid performance, with the rebound from the impact of the torrential rains in western Japan in the summer of the previous fiscal year and an increase in prescriptions for a high-cost hepatitis C drug contributing to higher sales. As a result, sales in other businesses increased 3.7% year on year.

In terms of profits, operating income increased by 1.9% year on year. The Company has been carrying out initiatives geared toward reforming working styles as initially planned, in addition to implementing other initiatives that involve upgrading remuneration and benefits for younger employees and further improving the workplace and strengthening disaster countermeasure.
